Rich Eddy's Rockin' Oldies Band

Tuesday, May 2, 2017

7:00 p.m.

Henry Ford Centennial Library

After years of performing as an award-winning singer, percussionist and harmonica player in bands and studios across the USA, James Davis had a vision of a duo that could perform an equal, or even better show, than a band with many more members. To make that dream come true, he was lucky enough, in 1986, to team up with Don Hails, a multi-talented, award-winning musician and singer.

With their ability to play multiple instruments, and Don's knowledge of the latest advancements in musical technology, they formed their band. They are now enjoying success performing shows in venues across the Midwest.

How did James and Don come up with the name Rich Eddy? They thought Eddy was a real cool name and they idolized the legendary guitarist, Duane Eddy. Rockin Oldies is what they do; the two men always thought they would love to be rich, hence the name "Rich Eddy's Rockin' Oldies Band."

USED BOOK SALE

Unlike last April, the weather gods smiled on us and many of our faithful book sale patrons ventured out for our April 5th sale and helped us to a very respectable total of $2,563! The sales total reported here includes our 2nd floor shelves and Bryant sales. Many attendees snatched up DVDs and CDs at our new, lower prices. These bargain prices will continue, so be sure to check out our media sections.

Our sale on May 3rd will feature gardening, sports, and travel books. Also available will be two complete sets of World Book Encyclopedia. One set is from 2012 and the other is from 2013. The 2012 set will be priced at $150 and the 2013 set at $200. A brand new set sells for over a thousand dollars, so these slightly older sets are a great deal at these prices.

As always, we will have a vast array of fiction and nonfiction books, paperbacks, magazines, vinyl, CDs, DVDs, and much more for sale! Our young adult and children's area will have fully restocked shelves with books for all interests and reading levels. We will have clearance items in the rotunda for children and adults, starting as low as 25 cents per book and $1 surprise grab bags as well.

We are pleased to announce that you may now use your credit or debit card when making purchases at the book and media sale. A small detour to the 2nd floor circulation desk is all that is needed for those times when you find yourself short of cash and can't resist all those bargain books!

Please plan on joining us on Wednesday, May 3rd. Thanks again for your support of FOLD and your public library.

Recommended Reads at Self-Checkout

A new feature of the self-checkout machine at Henry Ford Centennial Library is the addition of "Recommended Reads" for fiction titles. As items are added to the checkout screen, a side list of related materials is displayed. Once the checkout is complete and a receipt is printed, a few of the displayed items will print out at the bottom of the receipt. It is a great way to discover other titles in the collection that are similar to the title that is currently checked out. The lists are generated from a product called "Novelist Plus." Take a look at the product directly by going through the library website and clicking on "Online Resources" under the "Resources" dropdown menu on the orange menu bar. It is really fun to find new authors to read based on the titles you enjoy reading the most!
